About Me

I am a rising junior enrolled in Parsons School of Design's BFA product design program, constantly working diligently to enhance my skill set and creative abilities. With enthusiasm and grit, I pursue challenges to fulfil my curiosity and strive to work to the best of my abilities. I have experience from various internships, taking roles in market research, graphic design, illustrations, etc. I am seeking an internship to bring my creative skills to the next step and gain insight into the design industry.
